

From The East - Brandon A. Zears - Worshipful Master

Brethren,

It is amazing how quickly this year has gone by, as we enter into summer we are already halfway thru our Masonic year and have some amazing things! In the month of May our Junior Steward opened his home up for his annual Cinco de Mayo house party which was a great time; we got to sit around and have great conversation outside and enjoy the weather!

As the month moved along the Chapter that meets in Naperville that many of us are members up welcomed in the new High Priest to take over along with its new officer corps, we look forward to supporting them as they continue to do some great things in the coming months, our very own Junior Warden will be taking over as the Thrice Illustrious Master in the council in June and is excited to take on another leadership role in the Masonic Fraternity as he progresses to the East in the Craft Lodge. We raised two more master masons this month at degree in the middle of the month and welcome them into our fraternity with all of the rites and benefits here within contained. I am excited to see them both progress as men and brothers as they take an active role in the fraternity and take upon themselves leadership roles.

We were found ourselves doing our Masonic duty by giving the last funeral rites on a brother from Ohio, whom no one personally knew but we all share that mystic bond with because we can call him brother, it is one of the hardest but most rewarding parts of being a Mason, giving the last rites as a brother passes from this life removes a link in our chain, but it is our duty to remember him and continue to replace the missing links with worthy men who would keep his legacy and involvement strong! The end of the month brought on Memorial Day where America remembers all of the fallen soldiers that have fought and fallen for this Great country that we have called the United States of America since 1776! Many of our Masonic brothers were among them, from some of the original militia men in the revolutionary to the current wars and conflicts around the globe that are ensuing to this day, we remember their sacrifice so we can enjoy the comforts we have in this country, one of which is being able to be members of this fraternity and publicly display our membership.

For any member that might be worried about their heart stopping, fear not, many members of our lodge attended the AED CPR training course that our Temple board sponsored to better enable our bothers to respond to an emergency both at our lodge and outside by being able to effectively perform CPR and use an AED, I think they even taught George Murray how to perform dog CPR.

As we look to the summer months, we will have our Community Builder and Lodge Builder awards night on June 7th where we celebrate and acknowledged everything they have done for our lodge and community to make it a better place to live and be! Our summer Picnic will be on Saturday July 30th, friends and family are all welcome! My finance Annie and I ran in the Naperville Glow run that was partially sponsored by our lodge thru their generous donation.

It was great to see our brother Dainon Setzer, who was in town for the passing of his grandmother, our thoughts and prayers are with his family, as well as with Worshipful Brother Mike Ault who lost his mother earlier in the month. I look forward to seeing all of you at our upcoming events, and during the summer around town!!!!

Fraternally,
Brandon A. Zears

THE BROTHERS MAYO

By Jonathan Paz

The author is a Past Master of Papillion Lodge No. 29 in Papillion, Nebraska; a member of the Grand Lodge of Nebraska Education Committee; and the editor of the Masonic educational article series, "To Light," in the Nebraska Mason, the official publication of the Grand Lodge of Nebraska. This article was originally published as part of the series.

William Worrall Mayo was born in the Town of Eccles in the City of Salford, Greater Manchester, England on May 31, 1819. He studied science and medicine in Manchester, Glasgow and London before arriving in New York City in 1845 and began working as a pharmacist at Bellevue Hospital. He moved to Lafayette, Indiana, briefly working as a tailor. In 1849, he rejoined the medical profession, working with Dr. Elizur Deming, one of the founders of the Indiana Medical College in La Porte. Mayo assisted with a cholera epidemic in Lafayette, and was rewarded with enrollment in a 16 week course at the medical college that same year, graduating in 1850.

This may seem a shockingly short time to receive a Doctor of Medicine degree, but this would be considered an above average education in the mid-19th Century. Previously, individuals interested in becoming a doctor became a preceptor, or apprentice, working for a practicing physician for several months or years. By the 1850's, this system was declining and the concept of a medical school was increasing, even though they rarely offered clinical experience. William W. Mayo had the advantage in the Indiana Medical College to witness demonstrations of surgery and studies in dissection. It even had a microscope -- a very special tool that wasn't even available at Harvard until 1869.

In 1854, he contracted Malaria and moved to Cronan's Precinct, Minnesota Territory, where he became known as the "Little Doctor." In 1859, he moved to Le Sueur where he started his first medical practice. His son, William James, was born in 1861. Later that year, the Civil War broke out. His attempts to procure a commission as a military surgeon failed, but the next year he proffered his services as a military surgeon during the Dakota War of 1862. He became the examining surgeon for the draft board in Rochester, Minnesota, in 1863. It was here that William petitioned Rochester Lodge No. 21, A.F. & A.M. to receive the degrees of Freemasonry.

Dr. William Worrall Mayo was initiated an Entered Apprentice Mason on September 21, 1863, passed to the degree of Fellow Craft Mason on October 5, and raised to the Sublime degree of Master Mason on October 19, 1863. This inspired him to finally put down some roots and permanently reside in Rochester. In 1865, his second son, Charles Horace, was born. He opened up a medical practice in Rochester and soon had enough business that he no longer needed to find additional jobs to support his family, and even began serving in the area in local civic affairs -- as alderman, mayor, and school board member.

It was during this time, both little William and Charles accompanied their father as he went about his business. As the boys grew up, they were given increasing responsibilities, including administering anesthesia and tying off blood vessels.

In 1883, William James Mayo received his medical degree from the University of Michigan. Shortly after returning home, a horrible tornado had struck his hometown. He and his brother Charles helped their father organize the treatment of the injured along with several other doctors from the region and the Sisters of St. Francis.

In 1888, Charles received his medical degree from Northwestern University. With the assistance of the Mayo's, the Sisters of St. Francis formed St. Mary's Hospital on September 30, 1889. Originally, they were the only three surgeons at the hospital at a time when anti-Catholic sentiment in Central Minnesota was very high. Three months later, Charles petitioned his father's lodge to receive the degrees of Freemasonry. (continued on next page)

THE BROTHERS MAYO

Dr. Charles Horace Mayo was initiated as an Entered Apprentice Mason on January 24, 1890, passed to the degree of Fellow Craft Mason (date unknown), and raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason on May 12, 1890.

In 1892, William W. Mayo asked Augustus Stinchfield to join his practice in Rochester. Once Augustus joined, William retired from the practice. As time passed, more doctors were brought into the practice until in 1919, Drs. William J. Mayo, Charles H. Mayo, Augustus Stinchfield, Henry S. Plummer, Melvin Millet, E. Star Judd, and Donald Balfour created the Mayo Properties Association. From this association, these partners, along with Dr. Christopher Graham, created what is now known as the Mayo Clinic.

Dr. William J. Mayo petitioned Rochester Lodge to receive the degrees of Freemasonry in 1920, but the increasing demands of his time prohibited him from receiving any of the degrees. While it was suggested that the Grand Master of Minnesota could use his powers to make William a Mason-at-Sight, his brother Charles objected to this controversial practice.

Dr. Charles Horace Mayo, affectionately known as Dr. Charlie, became Grand Orator of the Grand Lodge of Minnesota in 1924. Two of his sons, both doctors themselves working at the Mayo Clinic, later joined Freemasonry. One of them, Dr. Charles "Chuck" William Mayo, later became Grand Orator of the Grand Lodge of Minnesota in 1967. The Mayo Clinic remains an enduring legacy. This clinic, through its founding partners and those who came after, implemented many of the medical practices we see today, from medical records to sterilization of surgical suites. Through the work of these Brothers Mayo, we all can live healthier lives.

The Mayo Clinic is a non-profit medical practice and medical research group based in Rochester, Minnesota. It is the first and largest integrated nonprofit medical group practice in the world, employing more than 3,800 physicians and scientists and 50,900 allied health staff. The practice specializes in treating difficult cases through tertiary care. It spends more than $500 million dollars a year on research.

Naperville Masonic Temple Association member Paul Felstrup arranged to have the Naperville Fire Department come in and present the "Heartsaver CPR/AED" training. Naperville Firefighter/EMT's Al Katona, Rory Cummins and Kirby Marten provided instruction on CPR and AED for Adults; Choking in an Adult; CPR and AED for Children; How to Help a Choking Child; CPR for Infants; and How to Help a Choking Infant. They did a great job and Naperville is very fortunate to have such dedicated and professional personnel protecting us. The instructors also evaluated our AED, demonstrated its operation and made recommendations for maintaining the equipment.

There were thirteen students who attended the class and at the end received their HEARTSAVER CPR/AED training completion cards; they were members wives Tracey Cowart and Vandna Kapoor as well as members Andrew Siedelmann, Paul Felstrup, Jerry Yingling, Brandon Zears, John Buckler, Walter Hemphill Jr., Bryan Newson, Ross Decent, George Murray, Don Cowart and Tim Dry.

Sandwiches, chips and drinks were supplied by the Naperville Masonic Temple Association.

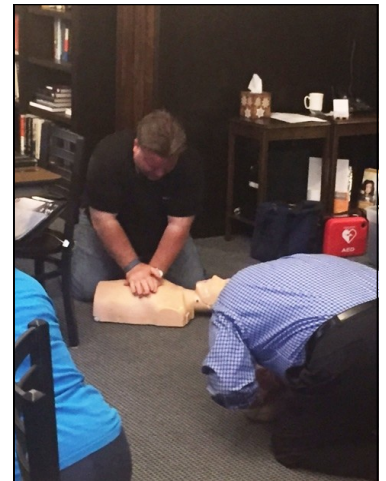

Once again a big thank you to our Naperville Firefighter/EMT's for their invaluable instruction and to Jim Kubinski, Coordinator for the Naperville Fire Department Community CPR Program for arranging this class.

GOOD MEN AND TRUE

A Mason is oblig'd by his Tenure, to obey the moral law; and if he rightly understands the Art, he will never be a stupid Atheist, nor an irreligious Libertine. But though in ancient times Masons were charg'd in every Country to be of the Religion of that Country or Nation, whatever it was, 'tis now thought more expedient only to oblige them to that Religion in which all Men agree, leaving their particular opinions to themselves; that is, to be good Men and true, or Men of Honour and Honesty, by whatever Denomination or Persuasions they may be distinguished, whereby Masonry becomes the Center of Union and the Means of conciliating true Friendship among Persons that must have remain'd at a perpetual Distance.

Dr. James Anderson
